COLUMBUS meets also many circular economy criteria, as nowadays asked more and more.

The quality is thin and light, which saves not only material, but also energy and cost, during its whole lifecycle.

As all Schoepf velvets, it is long-living, durable and easy to maintain.

We keep the stock low and produce mainly all on demand, in our German factory - since 1851 -, which guarantees enough short production and delivery times to all European shipyards and turnkey companies, as well to USA customers.

On demand production also gives a good chance to make on demand colours, if standard colour range doesn't include your favourite.

All our velvets are made of Trevira CS fibre, permanently flame-retardant mono material, easy to recycle.

MED certificated batches are easy to trace, so production leftovers will be possible to return via Trevira CS take back system, free of charge.

Return from refurbishment projects will also be possible, when time comes to an end of earlier interior, although probably materials are still useable in original purpose for some other areas.

We look forward to seeing you on 3 - 4 of June at the Miami Beach Convention Center.

With kindest regards,
